About Kintsugi:

Poetically translated to “golden joinery,” Kintsugi, or Kintsukuroi, is the centuries-old Japanese art of fixing broken pottery. Rather than rejoin ceramic pieces with a camouflaged adhesive, the Kintsugi technique employs a lacquer dusted with powdered gold, silver, or platinum. Once completed, beautiful seams of gold glint in the conspicuous cracks of ceramic wares, giving a one-of-a-kind appearance to each “repaired” piece.

This unique method celebrates the fractures and breaks instead of hiding or disguising them. In fact, Kintsugi often makes the repaired piece even more beautiful than the original, revitalizing it with a new look and giving it a second life.

As Christians, we celebrate this same newness of life in Christ. We rejoice in the forgiveness of our sins, our brokenness, not by disguising our imperfections, but by celebrating the healing light that makes us whole again.

Join us to learn how you can make beautiful from the broken. Choose from a bowl or a plate, or bring a piece of your own.

NOTE: The epoxy and gold materials used in this repair is NOT food safe.
